

1307 New York Avenue, NW . Fifth Floor . Washington, DC 20005-4701
202.293.7070 . fax 202.296.5819 . aascu.org

RE: AMORESHAUDA KINGSLEY

April 5, 2023

To the Selection Committee,

I am pleased to recommend Amoreshauda Goins Kingsley for a teaching position within the international school community. I have had the privilege of knowing Ms. Kingsley for several years, and her commitment to teaching excellence is truly commendable. As an educator in Literature and Language Arts, she has cultivated a highly reflective teaching methodology and remains open to innovative strategies that engage diverse learners.

My extensive interactions with Ms. Kingsley have provided me with a deep understanding of her instructional style. During a classroom observation, I witnessed her adept handling of complex themes, such as identity and cultural expression, in a bilingual classroom setting. She skillfully integrated texts from various authors to connect students with contemporary issues in literature, fostering an environment in which every voice is valued.

In our discussions, Ms. Kingsley has articulated a clear and thoughtful teaching philosophy that bridges literature with real-world experiences. Her effective use of literature as a lens to explore social dynamics has resonated with her students, encouraging rich dialogue and critical thinking. Her ability to facilitate group discussions is particularly impressive—she creates an engaging atmosphere where students feel comfortable sharing their perspectives, enhancing both participation and learning outcomes. Ms. Kingsley has also demonstrated a keen awareness of practical teaching considerations, continuously seeking feedback to improve clarity in her instructional materials and enhance the overall learning environment.

In summary, I wholeheartedly recommend Amoreshoada Goins Kingsley for her Teacher Certification. Her dedication to her craft, innovative teaching methods, and commitment to student engagement make her an invaluable asset to any educational institution.

Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions or need further information.

Sincerely,

Arlene Jackson, Ph.D
Associate Vice President of Global Initiatives
American Association of State Colleges and Universities